Arts Council Tokyo

Decision to hold Traditional Culture and Performing Arts Experience Program for Foreigners

Announcement of the Traditional Culture Program Lineup

As a new initiative this year, Arts Council Tokyo (Tokyo Metropolitan Foundation for History and Culture) has decided to hold accessible short programs that offer foreigners the opportunity to gain first-hand experience of traditional culture and performing arts around tourist attractions in Tokyo. In addition, we provide programs, which combine hands-on experience with the viewing of performances, as well as giving school children throughout Tokyo the opportunity to come into contact with Japanese traditional culture and performing arts, thereby enabling to deepen their understandings of the value of Japanese culture. Arts Council Tokyo will also continue the traditional culture and performing arts programs which have been held up as before. We welcome you to visit these programs and cover them in the media.

○ Traditional Performing Arts for Kids

This long-term Okeiko program aims to inspire the next generation to cultivate the heart to cherish the traditional performing arts, through authentic hands-on experience. Okeiko is a traditionally established lesson style that performers and their apprentices respect as an important aspect of their learning. In this program, children will be taught in the Okeiko style over several months by leading performers from the worlds of Noh theater, Nihon Buyo dance, Sankyoku music and Nagauta music and their experience culminates in on-stage performances with professional stage sets. Throughout the program, the focus is children's encountering and assimilating authentic and profound cultures of the traditions. There will be classes specially aimed for junior and senior high school students, as well as community-based short-term Okeiko programs that features the essence of the long-term program that children can experience during the summer vacation.
